Discover Room J.

Room J at East Midwood Jewish Center is where children develop their connections to Judaism. We fuse ancient traditions with contemporary learning and openness.

Our youth and family programs provide a stimulating foundation for discovering and interpreting Jewish ideas, nurturing Jewish identity, acting compassionately, and encouraging spiritual discovery. We give attentive support to every type of learner and warmly welcome all kinds of families.

Room J has earned the United Synagogue of Conservative Judaism’s Framework for Excellence Award.

We offer after-school and Sunday classes, bar/bat mitzvah preparation, Shabbat gatherings for prayer and learning, family programs, holiday services and celebrations, new-learner opportunities, social events, and social action engagement. We also have a gym and pool for classes and recreational activities.
Menschkins & Little Learners Programs

Menschkins is a playful introduction to Jewish heritage & holidays through story, art, music, creative movement, cooking, and sometimes silliness. Menschkins programming varies from year to year, and there’s always something fun on the calendar.

Little Learners (ages 5-8) meet on Sunday mornings. We introduce Hebrew letters and words, prayers, and blessings. We share Bible and other stories, and guide conversations and activities that value the natural curiosity of our students.

Our arts-based Sunday/Tuesday school partners a Judaic curriculum with exploration and creativity.

We emphasize Jewish community, knowledge, and commitment. We guide our students to think for themselves about the intersection of Judaism and their lives. Small-group learning is hands-on; we believe understanding best comes through doing and by translating words into action. Room J students of all ages draw, build, cook, compose, sing, act, sew, paint, dance, debate, interpret, and imagine. They sometimes make a big mess—and that’s great!

Kids ages 5-8 are in our Little Learners program, and meet on Sundays from 9:30–11:00 am.

Older kids meet on Sundays from 9:30 am–12:30 pm, and on Tuesdays from 3:30-6:00 pm.

Come make a joyful noise!

Our monthly family Shabbat-a-BimBoms feature lively services and delicious dinners.
